ROBERT BRASHEAR

All classes are taught by Robert Brashear, former Texas Tech men's basketball assistant coach and Lubbock native who played collegiately at the Air Force Academy and Texas Tech. In his nine years coaching with the Red Raiders, he was a part of three Southwest Conference Championships, tutored two conference players of the year, 13 All-Conference players (SWC & Big 12), five NBA players (one lottery pick) and seven other players who played or are currently playing professionally. Numerous other players and managers coached by Brashear have gone on to successful coaching careers at the NBA, college and high school level.

Combining his years of experience as a basketball coach with his time spent directing youth camps and clinics, Robert has created the high-energy, individualized programs offered by Brashear Basketball.

It is my goal to teach young people fundamental basketball skills in a fun, positive and high-energy environment that gets kids excited about the sport while building self confidence through success and improvement.

As a long-time basketball coach who's worked with every age and skill level—from first timers to first rounders—I can assure you that there is no substitute for developing and mastering fundamental skills. I founded Brashear Basketball with the simple principle in mind that basketball is a lot more fun when you can dribble, pass and make a basket. I have surrounded myself with others who believe in this philosophy as well to create a school for basketball. We bring Brashear Basketball to your school, for your child, for your convenience.

Classes focus on the basic basketball fundamentals which ensure success at every level.

Dribbling

The weekly one-hour basketball skills classes are offered to kids grades K-6. Classes are energetic, participative and fun. Each week young players are introduced to new individual and team drills encompassing the five target areas. The drills and activities are progressively taught and reviewed in the following weeks. We stay committed to our philosophy of positive improvement each day for each child. Class sizes are limited to ensure quality. During class, every child has their own basketball so that the activity is constant.

Our primary goal at Brashear Basketball is to provide young people with a positive athletic experience, allowing them to enjoy success through improvement. The by-product of individual improvement is self-confidence which leads to success in all endeavors. The skills learned in Brashear Basketball classes such as agility, hand-eye coordination, ball handling, passing and catching, flexibility, conditioning and teamwork benefit a lifetime of activities. Each child learns to compete with themselves each week refining their skills and beginning to learn the process of improvement.
